Handle with Care

San Francisco-based designer SUZANNE TUCKER knows California well, so it's not surprising that she looked to the state's diverse neighborhoods, towns, and history to inspire her new hardware for Nanz, a company that she has worked with repeatedly. The completely coordinated sets of knobs, levers, hinges, and pulls include the rustic hammered Montecito, the Georgian-inspired Bel Air, the Art Deco-influenced Hollywood, and the delicately detailed brass San Simeon, as well as designs that nod to Nob Hill and Tiburon—a range of styles suitable for embellishing any room in any state.
