Informed by the raucous markets, sweeping plains and glittering deserts of Africa, interior designer Suzanne Tucker's latest textile journal, the Caravan Collection, speaks volumes. A covetable grouping of fabrics that includes a luscious silk jacquard calling out the rich colors of a Moroccan bazaar; whisper-soft herringbone weaves that conjure up the sands of the Sahara; and opulent velvets that suggest the simple beauty found in the crisscrossing lines of an African trade basket, every page of Tucker's travelogue engages and enthralls. suzannetuckerhome.com
